

Win the Continuous Improvement Game

Perfect your Improvement Program Skills

GETTING STARTED

You're a professional dedicated to improving processes in your organization and operate with an eye on the goals of increasing customer satisfaction, speeding production and reducing costs. Implementing a continuous improvement program in your business is always a successful strategy, and the Improvement Professional in Print (IPP) certification program from PRINTING United Alliance will put you on the path to victory.

READY TO ROLL

The IPP certification program is designed to validate the expertise of printing industry professionals who help companies achieve operational excellence by using the concepts of Lean Manufacturing and other management and quality systems.

PLOT YOUR COURSE

IPP certification program courses are broken into modules that allow information to be easily digested at a comfortable pace. With seven printing-industry specific topics, the IPP certification program provides you with the tools you need in a production print environment to increase customer satisfaction, speed production and reduce costs.

UP YOUR GAME

Complete the program and earn an Improvement Professional in Print Digital Badge that you can display in your email signature, in the certifications section of your LinkedIn profile page, and through Twitter, Facebook, and other social media
